

Andrew Mendyk, Alliant Energy

Andy Mendyk is a Senior Forecast Analyst at Alliant Energy, which serves both gas and electric customers throughout Iowa and Wisconsin. Andy is responsible for developing Alliant Energy's gas and electric forecasts, as well as providing analytical support to help the company better understand the energy needs of its customers. Before arriving at Alliant Energy, Andy was a senior researcher at the Energy Center of Wisconsin (now known as Seventhwave), working primarily on energy efficiency potential studies, impact evaluations and field research studies. Andy holds a MS in Agricultural and Applied Economics with a graduate certificate in Energy Analysis and Policy from UW-Madison.