

David Ludwig, Attorney

David Ludwig's career as an attorney involved representing the state of Wisconsin. He was initially a Senior Attorney for the State Legislature, then became Chief Counsel to the Hospital Rate-Setting Commission. In 1990 he began working with the Public Service Commission, where he was ultimately appointed Deputy General Counsel.

David retired from the practice of law in 2013 after 35 years of service. He now is a regular volunteer each week as a carpenter with Habitat for Humanity.
