

Nate Zolik, Godfrey & Kahn

Nate Zolik is an administrative and regulatory attorney at Godfrey & Kahn, focusing on energy regulatory matters, political law, and alcohol beverage industry regulation. He has over a decade of experience in senior positions of state government, including chief of staff and senior advisor at the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin, and chief legal counsel to former Wisconsin Governor Jim Doyle. Nate has served on numerous state boards and advisory councils, testified on energy policy and utility regulation before the Wisconsin Legislature, and also has experience as a commercial litigator, practicing at a large, international law firm in New York City, before moving to Wisconsin. Nate holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Dayton and a law degree from UW-

Madison. He is licensed to practice in both Wisconsin and New York.
