

Wisconsin Public Utility Institute

Merlin Raab

Wisconsin Public Service Corporation

Merlin Raab has spent over thirty years with Wisconsin Public Service of Green Bay in a variety of roles related to economic development, energy utilization and efficiency program development, and industrial customer account management. His current responsibilities include renewable energy and energy efficiency policy.