

Wisconsin Public Utility Institute

Scott Hempling Georgetown University Law Center

A teacher, litigator, advisor and expert witness, Scott Hempling has taught regulatory law to a generation of United States practitioners. He has assisted clients from all sectors in the electric industry and has appeared frequently before U.S. congressional committees, state commissions and state legislative committees. He has addressed audiences throughout the United States and in Canada, Central America, Germany, India, Italy, Jamaica, Mexico, New Zealand, Nigeria and Peru.

Scott's legal book, Regulating Public Utility Performance: The Law of Market Structure, Pricing and Jurisdiction, published by the American Bar Association, 2013, has been described as a "comprehensive regulatory treatise [that] warrants comparison with Kahn and Phillips." A companion volume will address the law of corporate structure, mergers and acquisitions. His book of essays, Preside or Lead? The Attributes and Actions of Effective Regulators, published by the National Regulatory Research Institute, 2010, has been described as "matchless" and "timeless." The essays continue monthly at www.scotthemplinglaw.com. His articles have appeared in Energy Law Journal, Electricity Journal, Energy Regulation Quarterly, Public Utilities Fortnightly, ElectricityPolicy.com, publications of the American Bar Association, and other professional publications. These articles cover such topics as mergers and acquisitions, the introduction of competition into formerly monopolistic markets, corporate restructuring, ratemaking, utility investments in nonutility businesses, transmission planning, renewable energy and state–federal jurisdictional issues.

At Georgetown University Law Center, he teaches courses on public utility law and regulatory litigation. From 2006 to 2011, he was the Executive Director of the U.S. National Regulatory Research Institute.

Scott received a B.A. cum laude from Yale University in (1) Economics and Political Science and (2) Music, and a J.D. magna cum laude from Georgetown University Law Center.