

MITCHELL MYHRE

Alliant Energy

Mitchell Myhre is a manager in regulatory affairs at Alliant Energy where he manages Alliant's involvement on MISO- and FERC-related matters. Mitchell works on a wide range of regional and federal issues including resource adequacy, cost allocation, planning, energy markets and governance. He is also involved with FERC tariff matters and compliance requirements for Alliant. Previously, Mitchell worked in public accounting and for an engineering and consulting firm where he was involved in the analysis of energy system projects. He has also worked for the Focus on Energy Program in Wisconsin and has published energy-related research work. Mitchell holds B.S. degrees in accounting and in finance, a Master's degree in environment and resources from UW-Madison, a certificate in energy analysis and policy from the UW-Madison and is a Certified Public Accountant.