

Wisconsin Public Utility Institute
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

RODNEY STEVENSON

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Rodney Stevenson is professor emeritus of the University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Business and UW-Madison's Nelson Institute for Environmental Studies, where he also chaired the Energy Analysis and Policy graduate program. He is a founding member and current emeritus board member of the Wisconsin Public Utility Institute. Rodney received his Ph.D. in economics from Michigan State University and his B.A. in economics from Monmouth College (Illinois). His research interests focused on regulatory economics and policy, institutional economics, and performance measurement.