MIKE HODGES

WPPI Energy

Mike Hodges serves a dual role with WPPI Energy, serving as both senior programs coordinator and as an energy services representative. He has over 35 years of experience in the electric industry, including previous positions in marketing, customer service, and energy efficiency consulting with Wisconsin Power and Light and with the former Wisconsin Energy Conservation Corporation (now Slipstream Inc.). As senior programs coordinator, Mike manages numerous programs for WPPI Energy, including its Low-Income Commitment To Community offerings and its Electric Vehicle Technologies Initiative. In his role as an energy services representative, Mike provides energy services support to the WPPI communities of Black River Falls and Whitehall. He is accredited by the Association of Energy Engineers as a certified energy manager and serves on the State of Wisconsin Department of Administration's Low Income Energy Advisory Committee (LIEAC).
