

HALEY WALLER PITTS
Fredrikson & Byron, P.A.

Haley Waller Pitts is a shareholder in Fredrikson & Byron's energy and litigation groups. In her energy practice, Haley focuses on assisting clients with wind farm, solar, transmission, and pipeline permitting matters. She is part of a team advising utilities, independent power producers, independent transmission companies, and pipeline companies on siting, routing, permitting, and other regulatory matters before the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission, South Dakota Public Utilities Commission, Wisconsin Public Service Commission, and other federal, state, and local agencies. In her litigation practice, Haley primarily represents clients in litigation related to energy infrastructure in trial and appellate courts. She has experience in both state and federal courts, administrative proceedings, and arbitration and mediation. Haley has been admitted to the bar in several states, in the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals, U.S. District Courts for Minnesota and North Dakota, and the U.S. Supreme Court. She is a graduate of the University of St. Thomas (St. Paul MN) and received her law degree from the University of Michigan Law School.
