

GREGORY LEVESQUE
American Transmission Company

Greg Levesque is vice president of external affairs and communications with American Transmission Company (ATC), overseeing policy, government affairs, real estate, environmental, customer relations, interconnection services, local relations, and corporate communications. Greg began his career with ATC in 2003 and has more than 20 years of experience in the energy industry. Since joining ATC, he has overseen several related departments. Prior to his current role he was director of corporate communications, policy, and strategy. Before joining ATC, Greg worked as a regulatory analyst at law firms in Madison and Chicago. He holds a B.A. in history from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and an MBA from the University of Wisconsin School of Business. Outside of his ATC duties, Greg serves on the community board of directors for the Clean Lakes Alliance in Madison and the American Cancer Society Coaches vs. Cancer board of ambassadors.