

WARREN LASHER

Lasher Energy Consulting

Warren Lasher is president of Lasher Energy Consulting, a firm he founded in October 2021 which focuses on providing specialized analysis and insight designed to help clients meet their strategic energy goals. Prior to starting his firm, Warren spent seventeen years in the system planning organization at the Electric Reliability Council of Texas (ERCOT), serving as director and then senior director of system planning. Prior to joining ERCOT, he worked for the Southern Company in Birmingham, Alabama, in the engineering and the generation planning organizations. Warren has a bachelor's in mathematics from Yale University and graduate degrees in environmental management from Duke University and computer science from the University of Alabama at Birmingham.