

TYREL ZICH
Xcel Energy

Tyrel Zich is regional vice president, regulatory policy, with Xcel Energy. Previously, he held roles at Xcel as manager of pricing and planning and as a principal rate analyst. Prior to joining Xcel Energy in 2016, he was employed by the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin as a program and policy analyst. Tyrel's work has focused on electric and natural gas cost of service and revenue requirements in Xcel Energy's Wisconsin and Michigan jurisdictions. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire and a master's in public affairs from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.