

ANN RENDAHL

Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission

Ann Rendahl is a commissioner with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (WUTC). She serves on the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC) committees on electricity and critical infrastructure, is a prior chair of the committee on electricity, is a member of the Executive Committee, and serves on the board of directors. Ann also serves as a member of the body of state regulators for the California ISO's Energy Imbalance Market, a member of the Electric Power Research Institute's (EPRI) advisory council, and a member of the advisory council of the Center for Public Utilities at New Mexico State University. She previously served the WUTC in several capacities: as director of policy and legislation for the policy and legislative affairs section; as director of the administrative law division; as an administrative law judge; and as an assistant attorney general representing the WUTC. She is a graduate of Wellesley College and received a master's in public policy from the Goldman School of Public Policy, University of California, Berkeley. She received her law degree from the University of California College of Law (San Francisco).