

JARED WALKER SMITH
Boardman Clark LLP

Jared Walker Smith is an attorney in the Madison office of Boardman Clark where his practice focuses on municipal drinking water and wastewater utility issues and general municipal law. He serves as assistant legal counsel and lobbyist for the Municipal Environmental Group – Water Division, a coalition of Wisconsin municipalities that lobbies on public water supply legislation and regulation. Jared also serves as general counsel and special counsel for municipalities and their public utilities throughout Wisconsin. He has written and presented on topics including funding lead service line replacements, municipal utility governance, public bidding and construction, and public utility records retention. He is the current chair of the Public Utilities Section of the State Bar of Wisconsin. Jared received a B.A. from St. Olaf College (Minnesota) and his J.D. from the University of Wisconsin Law School.