

DAVID SPRINGE

National Association of State Utility Consumer Advocates

David Springe has been the executive director of the National Association of State Utility Consumer Advocates (NASUCA) for over 10 years. NASUCA's 61 member offices represent the interests of utility consumers in 45 states, the District of Columbia, Barbados, Puerto Rico, and Jamaica. Prior to joining NASUCA, David served for thirteen years as consumer counsel for the Kansas Citizens' Utility Ratepayer Board (CURB), the statutory advocate for residential and small commercial utility customers in proceedings before the Kansas Corporation Commission, Kansas courts, and the Kansas legislature. Prior to that, he spent nine years as an economist and expert witness for both CURB and the Kansas Corporation Commission before taking over becoming consumer counsel. He served as NASUCA's president from 2007-2009 and has represented consumer interests on numerous boards, including serving as vice chair of the EPRI Energy Efficiency and Grid Modernization Public advisory board and serving on the Edison Foundation's Institute for Electric Efficiency advisory board, the University of Missouri Financial Research Institute advisory board, the New Mexico State University Center for Public Utilities advisory board, and the Energy Board of the Keystone Center. David received both his M.A. in economics and his JD from the University of Kansas.