

KIMBERLY BARROW

Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission

Kimberly Barrow was nominated to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in 2023 and was elected vice chair by her fellow commissioners later that year. She was re-elected in 2025. She has been involved in the utility regulation industry for more than two decades and serves on the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC) board of directors and on the NARUC committee on electricity. She has served as a member of the NARUC Joint Federal-State Task Force on Electric Transmission; the FERC-

NARUC Current Issues Collaborative; the Nuclear Waste Strategy Coalition, which she joined in 2026; the Pennsylvania Energy Development Authority; and the Pennsylvania Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Council. Prior to her appointment as commissioner, Kimberly worked as chief of staff for then-Chair Gladys Brown Dutrieuille. As part of her service in the chair's office, Kimberly provided advice regarding the legal and policy implications of electric, gas, water and transportation matters pending before the Commission; evaluated the impact of state and federal legislation on ratepayers, utility operations, and Commission functions; and communicated with consumers, utility executives and government officials regarding the Commission's role and initiatives. From 2008-2013, she served as chief of staff in the office of commissioner Wayne Gardner. She started as a staff attorney at the Commission in 2001. Kimberly received a bachelor's degree in political science and Spanish from the University of Georgia and her law degree from the University of Georgia School of Law.
